“action our way forward”

aktaPD is pleased to provide updates regarding our actions going forward. Since our last global communication, aktaPD is excited about the inroads made toward a targeted international launch date of May 1st 2014; we are ahead of schedule. Some of the initial steps involve the placement of key roles within the company. aktaPD announces the addition to the staff of Matt Nowak and the advancement of Dorthea Stith.

Matt Nowak

Matt Nowak will be a Project Manager for aktaPD. Before arriving at aktaPD, he was a Learning Consultant and Copywriter for 3D Communications in Raleigh, NC. His duties at 3D Communications included: analyzing, designing, and developing training modules; researching the pharmaceutical industry; testing new technology tools; editing press releases; and cultivating client relationships.

Matt brings years of communication skills, has an excellent sense of prioritization and attention to details. Matt is a problem solver and his strengths include: multitasking and working late into the night and through the early morning to get a project completed. Matt has a Bachelor's of Science in Education from Salisbury University. He lives in Raleigh, NC, with his wife Ami.

Dorthea Stith

Dorthea will be transitioning from project management into her new and advanced role as finance manager for aktaPD. Dorthea is a multi-faceted accountant and business professional, with over 15 years of experience in a number of industries. She has worked as an accounting analyst for large industries such as Century Link, working their largest contract, as well as the United States Postal Service, where she gained immense knowledge of governmental accounting. She is also skilled in international and domestic project management, collaborating with sales, marketing, finance, and technical support between divisions in the US, India, and Manila, with DexOne, where she worked to resolve critical issues that existed inside process procedures and workflows affecting revenues.

Dorthea's advanced role with aktaPD will include managing infrastructure execution that supports the financial model for the company. Ms. Stith was educated at NC Wesleyan College, where she received her B.S. Degree in Accounting. She is also studying for her CPA Certification. In addition, she is an Active Notary Public and has passed the rigorous IRS exam to become a Registered Tax Return Preparer, which less than 10% of applicants pass. She has been Sarbanes-Oxley trained and is well-versed in various accounting software packages.

Please join me as we “action our way forward” by welcoming Matt and congratulating Dorthea.
